POWER SYSTEMS® DONATES EQUIPMENT TO KNOXVILLE SCHOOLS AND BUSINESSES

Power Systems Donates $130,000 in equipment to Knoxville-area

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. – [August 11, 2015] – In an effort to improve physical fitness in the community, Knoxville-based Power Systems has donated over $130,000 in resistance bands to area schools, businesses, and organizations. These products come in a variety of styles and resistances, offer a full-body workout, and are extremely versatile – making them an ideal product for all ages and ability levels.

In total, almost 16,000 resistance bands were given away to 12 high schools in Knox, Anderson, Blount, Campbell, and Roane Counties; the University of Tennessee; over 20 local gyms and fitness centers; and local corporations such as PetSafe, Pilot, TeamHealth, and Clayton Homes.

Vice President and General Manager of Power Systems, Linda Miller, says, “We love being able to help these great schools and organizations promote fitness and healthy living. Knoxville has been so supportive of Power Systems over the last 29 years and we are thrilled to give back to those who have helped us be so successful.”
