Power Systems Wins Nova7 Award a Third Time

Knoxville, TN – November 10, 2008 – For the third year, Power Systems Inc. has won a prestigious Nova7 Best Supplier Award in Fitness Management magazine's annual competition. Fitness professionals across the country chose Knoxville-based Power Systems as the "Best Specialized Equipment Supplier of 2008." Power Systems also claimed the title in 2004 and 2007.

Best Supplier Awards recognize excellence in seven categories as determined by fitness professionals and readers of Fitness Management. Competing in the category for Best Specialized Equipment Supplier are companies that produce and/or distribute products such as stability balls, resistance tubing, dumbbells, as well as Pilates, yoga, and physical therapy equipment. The other categories in this annual competition are Cardio Equipment, Strength Equipment, Computerized Technology, Flooring/Surfacing, Entertainment and Accessories, and Best Product of the Year.

The November issue of Fitness Management will feature the complete list of Nova7 Award winners. The magazine staff will present the awards at the Athletic Business Conference and Expo in San Antonio in early December.
